I Wonder Why.

I wonder why this world's good things,
Should fall in such unequal shares;
Why some should taste of all the joys.

And others only feel the cares!
I wonder why the sunshine bright
Should fall in paths some people tread.

While others shiver in the shade
Of clouds that gather over head!

I wonder why the trees that hang
So full of luscious fruit should grow

Only where some may reach and eat,
While others faint and thirsty go!

Why should sweet flowers grow for some
For others only thorns be found?

And some grow rich from fruitful earth,
While others till barren ground?

I wonder why the hearts of some
Overflow with joy and happiness,
While others grow their lonely way
Unblessed with naught of tenderness!

I wonder why the eyes of some
Should never be moistened with a tear,
While others mourn from morn till night

Their hearts all crushed with sorrow here!

Ah! well we may not know indeed
The ways the whereof of each life;
But this we know there's one who sees

And watches us through joy and strife
Each mission its life here fulfills,
And only he may know the end:

And loving him we may be strong
Through storms or sunshine he may send.

HOPE.

Hope, has been named a star by Poets of every age, and the simile is so just as to command universal assent.

In the broad light of day the lesser luminary fades away, or rather, is swallowed up by the greater effulgence around us.

When the sun seeks his place of repose, and night asserts her dominion over the earth, the star glimmers in the diadem of the sombre Queen, and we turn with a fonder gaze from the darkness below, to the brightness above.

The angry king of storms may gather his hosts of clouds, and shut it out from our gaze, but we mark the spot where it last shone, and watch for the first glimmering ray that tells of its reappearance.

Lo! in the midst of prosperity when not a wish is unfulfilled, and not a desire ungratified, hope disappears from a firmament—where it has no office to perform.

When misfortune banishes prosperity, and darkness settles upon the soul the fires of hope are kindled, and the anguish of to-day is lightened by the promised gladness of to-morrow.

Despair may struggle to hang its gloomy veil between us and the altars flame, but the obscurity will be rendered endurable by the lingering belief; that like the storm cloud, it will disappear, and leave that pilot-fire to guide us to a happier bourne.

Hope, is God's boon to the wretched, and it never dies until His protecting hand is withdrawn.

A Story of Love—How a slave won his Wife.

Mrs. Stowe made her reputation from the great mind of romantic truths which surrounds so many of the colored race. The future novelist will draw upon these simple annals of the once down trodden, but now emancipated people as the historians of the Pen atouchs have drawn upon the exodus from bondage of the children of Israel.

Year after year Robert Jackson has been the second waiter at the Union, and the head waiter at Congress hall, but the careless crowds have not known that through his veins courses the proudest Virginia blood. Robert is a small, well made quadroon, and his head closely resembles that of Stephen A. Douglas. His grandfather was General Harry Lee, of the revolutionary, light horse cavalry fame; and his mother was a slave woman, named Jenny, a maid of Mrs. Lee.

Soon after the birth of William Jackson, the head waiter's father, Jenny was sold to Col. Stewart, of Frederick county, Maryland. The boy William showed extraordinary intelligence, and became a pet of his master, and on the death of Col. Stewart, found himself free by a clause in the will. William went immediately to Washington, where he had been many times with his master.

There he met John McLean, Postmaster-General under Martin Van Buren, and a friend of his old master. Judge McLean appointed him a messenger in the Post office Department at a salary of $600 per annum.

While a messenger in the Post Office Department, William Jackson met a beautiful long-haired octoroon, slave of old Judge John Stewart, of Baltimore. The slave girl's name was Rachel, and she came to attend Miss Stewart, one of the fashionable Baltimore belles, at one of President Van Buren's receptions. William lost his heart with the dusky maid, and soon went to Baltimore to get Judge Stewart, who owned her, to consent to their marriage.

"No, sir," replied the Judge, indignantly, "Rachel is a slave, and she must marry a slave. I she marries a free nigger she will be running away herself, and besides, I don't know when I may want to sell her to the New Orleans traders."

"Then I can never marry her," "Never, until somebody buys her from me," replied the Judge.

Rachel was sent to the Frederick county farm, and thither William went in the night to hold a consultation with her. First it was resolved to run away. But there was no chance of success. The fugitive law was in effect; passes were required by the slaves on the plantation, and to run away was surely to be caught, returned, and then a dreadful whipping followed.

"What can we do?" sobbed Rachel.

"I know," replied William, "I will buy you myself."

"But you have no money."

"I can work and earn it," replied the determined lover.

"How much will you take for Rachel?" he asked of Judge Stewart the next day.

"Well, a thousand dollars will buy her," replied the hard-hearted Judge.

William went to work—every cent was saved, he even going on foot into Frederick county by night, to see Rachel, where they held solemn consultations and hoped only for the time when he could buy her and own her and make her his wife.

Think of that, mercenary beast, heartless fortune hunters of Congress Hall—think of toiling night and day, and then think of paying your last cent for the love of a woman.

Two years rolled around and nine hundred dollars gladdened the sight of Wm. Jackson, Christ-

"What shall I give you for Christmas this year, William?" asked the good old Postmaster-General of his trusty messenger.

"Anything, Mr. Secretary."

"But what would you like to have the most?"

Then William told the story of his and Rachel's troubles—how he was afraid she would be sold, how he loved her dearly, and how he lacked still a hundred dollars to buy her.

The old Postmaster-General took off his specks, wiped his eyes, then put them on again. Then he fumbled in his pockets, "Five—ten—twenty—thirty—" he counted, and then he handed William a hundred dollars!

Too happy to live, William started for Judge Stewart's.

"Here, Master John," said he, with his eyes all aglow with joy, "here is the thousand dollars—now I want Rachel."

"My God! William, you don't tell me so!" exclaimed the Judge.

"Why I sold Rachel yesterday $1,200 to go to Mobile."

"When is she going?" asked William nervously.

"She's gone already—went yesterday. She'll be in Lynchburg in three days by the boat."

Broken-hearted and crushed in spirit, William hurried back to the Judge McLean in Washington.

The Judge heard his story. Daniel Webster and John C. Calhoun were in the Judge's room, and they both took a deep interest.

"Let's raise the money and send William after her," said Webster.

"He would be seized a dozen times as a fugitive," said the Judge, "and they'll sell him too."

"I'll send my private Secretary," said Webster, and so he did.

There was no telegraph then, nor cars, but the Secretary took the Potomac River boat, and $1,200, contributed by William Jackson's friends in the department, overtook Rachel, showed Mr. Calhoun's letter, endorsed by several Virginians, bought her, and brought her back. Calhoun, Webster and Judge McLean saw them married the next week.

Our head waiter, Robert Jackson, afterward waited on Webster and Calhoun in their old age at the old "Indian Queen Hotel," in Washington, now called the Metropolitan, where, in 1834, he met Mrs. Joseph C. Luther on her wedding tour. Mrs. Luther took Robert to Swansea, Massachusetts, instructed him, and a few years afterward he made an engagement at the Union Hotel.

During the winter he catered for those eccentric bachelors in New York, Mr. T. H. Paile, Mr. Edward Penfold and Mr. Robert McCroky. Only the former survives. In 1868 Robert became head waiter on Congress Hall.

He catered for New Yorkers in the winter at 206 Waverly Place. Robert has, perhaps, the largest acquaintance of any in Saratoga. He knows old Presidents and sons of royalty, knows distinguished savans, poets, statesmen and historians. He lives in a beautiful vine clad cottage on Washington street, in Saratoga, where the guests of Congress Hall frequently call upon his wife, who is one of the neatest housekeepers in Saratoga.

The Danville Times thinks the negro must become a Democrat or "pass away." That is just the theory acted upon by the KKK. The Times advises the colored people if they desire to multiply and increase to go with the Conservative party. Well, the Conservative leaders have done considerable in that line, but without improving the breed. On the whole we think the advice very wicked.—Virginia.

A Terrible Scene.

A Desolate Husband Shoots Himself at the Death-Ed of His Wife.

The citizens of this community were greatly shocked at an early hour yesterday evening by the intelligence of the death of Charles H. Durban and wife, which has just taken place at the residence of Judge Evans, in the sixth ward, under the most sad and painful circumstances—the one dying from the effect of a pistol ball in the head, fired by his own hand, while the wife lay dying in the same room of a lingering disease, consumption, and expiring minutes after her husband had gone into eternity. That our citizens were startled by the announcement of so tragic an occurrence would but faintly express the feelings of sadness and horror at the event, and of the sympathy for the parents, relatives, and friends of the deceased. The circumstances of this painful occurrence, as near as we can gather them, are as follows:

Mr. Charles H. Durban, son of our well-known citizen, Thomas Durban, Esq., a young man about twenty-three years of age, a practicing attorney, office in the Athenaeum building, was married last spring to Miss Lucy Scaman. A few months ago, owing to the failure of Mrs. Durban, they resided at Judge Evans'. The disease with which she was that of consumption of the lungs. Mr. Durban, from the testimony of all, was the most devoted of husbands, kind, generous, and noble-hearted of sons. Dr. Ball was the attending physician of Mrs. Durban during her illness. She continued to grow worse, and as the prospect of her recovery faded away Mr. Durban grew sad and gloomy. Dr. Ball visited Mrs. Durban yesterday morning, and found that she could not long survive, a few days at the most. In the evening he was sent for again, and arrived at the bedside of the sufferer ten minutes before 6 o'clock. Mrs. Durban wished to take some medicine, morphine and chloroform, prescribed by the doctor when she was restless and could not sleep. Her husband asked the doctor about giving it, expressing himself as if fearing the desire for the sedative might increase. The doctor requested him to give her the medicine, which he did, at the same time seeming very nervous and excited. He walked partially around the room with his pockets, and finally stopped at the foot of the bed. The remedy did not seem to produce relief. She was then breathing very hard. The doctor then gave her some valerianate of ammonia. Mr. Durban still standing at the foot of the bed, and seemed to be suffering intensely. He said to the physician, "Doctor, for God's sake, can't you give Lucy (his wife's name) something to relieve her?" The doctor told him to wait, that the remedy had not had time to act. As the difficulty of breathing seemed to increase, the doctor told Mr. Durban to bring some unslacked lime, that she might inhale it while it slackened. He did so, and attempted to hold it to her face, but seemed to be unable, from nervousness. She then took a severe fit of coughing, when the doctor took his place, and Mr. Durban passed to the foot of the bed, saying, as he did so, "Doc, or, can't you do anything more for her; she is dying?" The doctor found that she would suffocate unless her position in the bed was changed, and with the assistance of her mother and Mrs. Evans was trying to change her position, when a report rang out which filled the room with the sound. The doctor, glancing up, noticed Mr. Durban staggering, and supposing that he might have accidentally shot himself, rushed to him and laid him on the floor. He did not

His wife seemed fully conscious of what had taken place; said she was sorry, but couldn't cry. She tried to speak again, but the words were not understood, when she breathed her last, there being from five to ten minutes in the time between their deaths. The ball took effect in the right temple, a little above and back of the eye. In his pocket was found a letter addressed to his wife, saying that he could not live without her, and if he died first that he would meet her in Paradise. There were letters also to his parents, and a note requesting that no coroner's inquest be held upon his body; that it was a matter between himself and his God.

Patriotism and Partisanship.

A Democratic paper says:—"This is the time to sink the partisan in the patriot. A man's country ought to be dearer to him than any mere political preference or predilection. Next to a man's honor is the preservation of his country's liberties."

We concur in the opinion that now is the time of all others to "sink the partisan in the patriot."

The country needs repose from political agitation. It has been the arena of the bitterest contention between not merely parties, but sections, for more than ten years, and this contention has encreased in blood. Our Democratic cotemporary who makes this appeal is in the minority. The majority are for peace and quiet. The Government is in their hands. Patriotism enjoins a manly and honest submission to the majority. There is no appeal from its decision, in the language of Mr. Jefferson, "but to the sword," if the rightful remedy of the ballot-box be discarded. Partisanship says, we, the minority, submit to force, but we do not acknowledge its rightfulness. We would resist with arms if we dared. Meanwhile we will disturb and embarrass. Everything the majority may do will be objectionable. They can do nothing good, or that we will approve, either as a party or as individuals.

Such is the language of the minority. We put it to the people to say if it is the language of patriotism.

The great body of the Democrats would have the people believe that the liberties of the country are in danger in the hands of their opponents. The answer is, and history will record, that every essential and valuable principle of liberty enjoyed to-day by the American people has been secured to them by the Republican party. This is a great fact, which every fair-minded man must see and feel, no matter what heated and prejudiced partisans may assert to the contrary. The very life of the nation and all its liberties were saved, and are now perpetuated, and perpetuated alone, by the Republican party.

Patriotism embraces the whole country, and cares equally for all its parts. It is generous, benignant. It is not confined to certain bounds, nor does it look merely to the elevation or aggrandizement of men. Patriotism inculcates submission to law as the first duty of the citizen.

Partisanship is directly the opposite. It has never been so palpably illustrated in the history of the country as it is now in the Democratic party.

We do not object to ordinary party contentions. They are natural, and are to be expected. But when a powerful faction arrays itself against the fundamental law, refuses to accept that law as a finality, and encourages active resistance to it, it sinks itself into an aggregation of enemies to the country itself.—Wash. Chronicle.

Who is to Blame?

If it be true that, "to the victor belongs the spoils," and when the Democracy rule, we find it so, why is it that so many democrats hold subordinate offices in North Carolina. We believe that at least two-thirds of the clerks in departments at Raleigh are democrats. Can not our Treasurer, Secretary of State, Auditor, &c., find republicans to fill the places? Can not the United States Circuit Court find republican clerks? Must democrats or new issue republicans be found to make Deputy United States marshalls? Are there not republicans who are competent to make railroad directors? If it is really necessary that these appointments shall be made from the democratic party, would it not be well for us as republicans to acknowledge that "the wealth and intelligence of the State" are centered in the democratic party. In looking at this matter we have come to the conclusion that some one is to blame in this matter, and now who is it?—the men who have made the appointments, or is it the party for not having better men? We are bound to believe that we have intelligence enough in the republican party to run the government of North Carolina; if we have not, then alas for North Carolina!—for the intelligence of the other party has well nigh ruined us; but we did not start out to abuse democrats, but republicans, for be it said to the disgrace of our party, that we have been too much addicted to running after false gods, too many of our party have yet those old slave-aristocratic notions; they love too well to patronize old families that were once an honor to North Carolina, but those days have passed away; these are times when merit should be rewarded, and if a republican did come from the plow handles if he is qualified for the office, let him have it. "We know it hurts dad, but it will be the making of the pup." There is another thing that hurts our party, and which we think deserves thought, and that is, as soon as a democrat joins our party, he must be made a pet of, and placed in some good place, where instead of taking his place in the ranks, on trial, must be placed in the lead of those who were true, when "it tried mens' souls to be true." For new recruits, we say apply the Methodist doctrine—take them in on trial, and if they are true they will not object to it; if they object, it will show that "the leaves and fishes" were what they were for.

It will soon be time to begin to think of who are to fill the different offices in the State, and we believe wisdom and prudence demand that we shall place no man before the party who will not discountenance this system of placing democrats in office, and of buying men with office. If we are in the minority, let us retire, for our course will kill us if continued to be practiced when in the majority.

We call the attention of our readers, and particularly our friends in Raleigh and vicinity, who are managing and controlling the Era, to the communication in another column of the Star signed "Radical." We desire to see unity and harmony in the management of the republican party in North Carolina, for in unity and harmony there is strength, and without it defeat is almost certain. We have but lately achieved a great victory in the "Old North State," in the defeat of the unconstitutional and revolutionary attempt of the KKK Democracy to call a Convention, and we do not hesitate to say, that the Era deserves great credit for the noble service rendered in the campaign, but we are sorry to see that with the campaign, ended that energy and determination on the part of the editorial management of the Era, that ought at all times to characterize the management of a paper intended as the organ and guide of a great political party. The necessity for a party organ at Raleigh was conceded by Republicans throughout the State, and the first appearance of the Era was hailed with joy from Cherokee to Currituck; but we greatly fear, that if the tone and management of the editorial department of the Era is not materially changed from what it has been for the past month, it will be the cause of much dissension and dissatisfaction in the ranks of the republican party in North Carolina. We hope that we may not have cause to allude to this subject a second time, for none more than we desire unity and harmony in the party throughout the State. Let us have harmony.

DIED, in Rutherfordton a few weeks since, after an illness of several weeks of Cholera, the Rutherfordton Star, a prominent member of the Radikal press. It leaves a long train of corruption to mourn its untimely end. But it died with the consolation that its "brethren in radical faith would, in '72, join it beyond Purgatory, en route for Fiddlers Green."—Cleveland Banner.

We did no such thing! we are alive and kicking, and think you ought to know it, for we spoke of you a week before you gave the announcement of our death; but perhaps Guardhead Scoggin was at Shelby, and you might have been lying out in the woods, and for this reason wrote as you did. We acknowledge that we were under the weather for a time, but did not know that you had got to calling disguised midnight raiding, breaking up printing presses, and whipping men for opinions sake, "Cholera." We have heard it generally called Kukuluxing. "Well, well," as Mrs. Paxtoning would say, "what is this world coming to?" Now we will bet our old hat, for we have two, that men will swear that they do not belong to any secret society called Kukulux, but when the truth comes out, it will be "Cholera," or some other name. We have heard some such swearing, it seems to us, that we were once arrested as a witness, and carried to the "State of Cleveland," and while there were offered protection from more than one man, who told us that there was no such thing as Kukulux—Plato and others, and yet since that time they have confessed to being members of the "Invisible Empire." Look out for Albany! We may soon be called on to publish your conviction and sentence, but must be excused from writing your obituary. We would need stronger cuss-words than you have used.—Sie transit Cleveland Banner.

Republican Meeting at Asheville.

We notice from a communication in the Asheville Pioneer, that a meeting of the Republicans of this, the 7th Congressional District, is proposed to be held at Asheville on the 26th November, inst. We have two objections to the time proposed for holding this meeting, and hope that it may be changed. First, the day proposed, 26th inst., is Sunday, and next, it is right on the eve of the U. S. Court at Raleigh, and in consequence, a great many republicans who desire to be present, could not possibly attend. We think our reasons are good, and desiring that the meeting shall be fully represented from every county in the District, we ask that the time be changed so as to suit all—say Monday, 18th December. What says the Pioneer?

ARRESTED.—We learn that Col. H. C. Jones, Senator from Mecklenburg, has been arrested on a charge of Kukuluxing, and admitted to bail to stand a trial at the November term of the U. S. Circuit Court at Raleigh. We do not know what the charges are against Col. Jones, but suppose there is evidence sufficient against him to justify the arrest. It has been intimated by certain parties that Col. Jones was the Chief of the "Invisible Empire" in North Carolina. If this be so, we hope he will receive his reward.

Don't tread this line, it is only to fill out.

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.—We are indebted to Senator Pool, for a number of public documents—embracing messages, and documents, reports, files of Congressional Globe, &c.

We are frequently placed under obligations to Senator Pool, to whom we feel grateful, but more grateful for the manly stand made by him in behalf of the republicans of the South, and to no one is more praise due for the protection we are now enjoying than to him.

GRANT AND POOL.—The Asheville Pioneer, hoists the names of Gen. Grant and Hon. John Pool, for President and Vice-President for 1872, subject to the decision of the National Republican Convention. This is a good ticket and we shall be very glad if the Convention may think so, and in behalf of Mr. Pool, can assure the North that in him they will find no Andy Johnson.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.—This body will meet in Raleigh on Monday, the 20th of this month. There is much that might be done for the good of the "Old North State" by the Legislature this winter, and among the good things, we hope they will not forget to dispose of the Kukulux members of that body.

THANKSGIVING.—His Excellency, Governor Caldwell, has issued a Proclamation, setting apart Thursday, the 23d of Nov. (inst.) as a day of public thanksgiving for all the people of North Carolina.

Remarks.

To the South, peace and quiet are indispensable, and the people have the power to bring it to a happy issue.

Long years of turmoil, war and defeat, have shown the necessity for quiet, and demonstrated the uselessness of further contest. It is now, and for the present generation, to decide what is for their future good and that of their posterity. Why prolong the contest? Has not every article of faith; every political tenet of the democratic party—the party now at war with the government—proved a falacy? Where are the theories of ante bellum days? Dead.

In the Senate; in every legislative body; on the stump throughout the South, the doctrines of democracy have been promulgated to the injury of the people. Its work has been to tear down and lay waste. Founded upon the will of a slave oligarchy it was not of, or for, the people.

The people of the larger portion of our country, expressing the republican sentiment of America (and we mean it in no strictly party sense) have forever repudiated and severed themselves from the party of the rebellion. What means democracy at the North, aside from the copperhead element, and the New York Tammany ring, does not mean what we have in the South under the democratic name. There are few at the North who affiliate with the views of those who assume the democratic name at South.

The democratic party at the South having failed in everything; having brought ruin and devastation over this fair land, having wrought nothing but injury, the question comes up, where shall we look for help? We answer, the ark of safety of the South now, is the Republican party. The party which saved the South and the nation—saved everything that is of value. This party, with its great leaders; its pre-eminent statesmen; its unparalleled financial ability will govern these United States for many years to come. We say to our opponents, it is useless to combat it. Southern men, against the great mass of people of America you are too feeble to resist. Then why not settle down to peace? Cease this warfare which only ends in damage and disaster. Read, reflect, cut loose from the old Bourbonisms of the past which any one can see are powerless to aid you.

The democratic party has adopted for its offensive weapons abuse and ostracism. They have not attempted to argue against the great principles of the Republican party. They have frightened the timid; denounced the great men of the party; they have gerrymandered the masses. While, for a time, this may have strengthened them, it, in the end, must prove a baseless fabric. Let every man investigate the principles and acts of the Republican party and decide for himself, whether they do not secure to him more liberty, more justice, than any party on earth ever offered its followers.

The material interests of the South suffer most disastrously from the continual conflict against the government. We cannot expect immigration, nor capital, to flow hitherward so long as the fear of disorder and opposition to the government exist. This is the great disease which is eating out our substance. What we need is quiet, industry and loyalty. It is for the democratic party to make or mar all these.—Wilmington Post.

Messrs. Editors:

I was much gratified to see the "Star" of the 21st ultimo. So long as that star shines there will not be wanting a luminary to scatter the light and warmth of true republican doctrine in the old North State. Your paper has the ring of the genuine metal. It is, walking in the same old paths, and fighting under the same old banner. It still sounds the old slogan that carried us to victory in 1868, and to the music of which we will triumph in 1872. I remember hearing of an incident which occurred at the great "meteoric shower" some forty years ago, which is still alluded to as "the time when the stars fell." A venerable and pious old negro relating his experience upon that occasion remarked, that it really seemed as if the end of all things was about to come, but he didn't want to be fooled about it, so he "set himself and fixed himself on de norf star, and said he wasn't agwine to gib up till dat fell." This may be applied to your "Star," Messrs. editors. Pure republicanism is not dead in North Carolina until this "Star" falls!

Do you not think that it would be advisable to start a republican newspaper in Raleigh? It seems to me that we ought to have an organ at the seat of the State Government, and especially during the session of the Legislature. It is true that some very good articles and communications have appeared in the Era, but that is not exactly the thing. We want a republican newspaper.

Yours, truly,

RADICAL.

Where is it?

The Sentinel of the 23d inst., undertakes a reply to a communication, which recently appeared in this paper, in regard to rumors of fraudulent practices in the matter of the public printing. Its reply suggests the interesting enquiry, who gets the money for the public printing? Mr. Moore has the appointment of public printer. He has filed a bond for the faithful performance of his contract; but, according to the Sentinel, Mr. Moore does not get the money, (Do you Mr. Moore?) because he does not "give his personal attention" to it, and "has never made out or collected a bill from the State." We are informed at the Treasury Department, that more than twenty thousand dollars has, thus far, been paid out upon the contract for the public printing. The Sentinel leaves us to infer, that Mr. Moore cares so little about that insignificant sum, that wrapped in the glory of a subordinate employment, as a compounder of pills, at the Lunatic Asylum, he disdains to bother with the public printing, and doesn't even give it "his personal attention," and "has never made out or collected a bill from the State," much less received any of the emoluments of his office.

Of course Mr. John W. Ramsey, "the foreman of the Sentinel office," who "made out the accounts for printing," and Mr. Theo. N. Ramsay, the book-keeper of the Sentinel, who "has collected the money," to the amount of twenty thousand dollars, did not use it for their own purposes. No such intimation has been made in any quarter. And then, "the Editor of the Sentinel," to use his own words in his issue of the 23d, "has no knowledge of the contract made for printing, nor has he seen or handled the money." What has become of the money? Is it lost? Mr. Moore has not got it. Mr. Ramsey has not got it. The Editor of the Sentinel has not got it, for he emphatically declares that he "has no knowledge of the contract," "nor has he seen or handled the money."

Where is it? Twenty thousand dollars or more are gone out of the Public Treasury, on account of public printing. It is currently reported that, from thirty to fifty per cent of this amount has been pocketed, by overcharging the State Government, in violation of its contract with the public printer. Where is it?—Era.

The New Superintendent of Public Instruction.

We called on Professor McIVER at his office in the Capitol yesterday, and found him in the midst of the duties of his new station. Mr. McIVER is a good appointment and will make an efficient Superintendent, barring our system of public education, which we think sadly defective in nearly all the elements that would contribute to its success. Several schools have been in operation, however, in various counties of the State, working some good, no doubt, to the poor children and opening the way to a better system and more regular schools of longer terms.

The Legislature at its last session failed to make any appropriation for schools, and the machinery of public instruction has been running on the appropriations of the preceding Legislature.

A system of public education will occupy the attention of the next session, and we trust that an efficient and wiser plan may be matured, brought forward and adopted.

Great Fires in Michigan and Indiana.

A Large Part of Michigan Burned Out—Villages Destroyed—Great Loss of Life.

DETROIT, MICH., Oct. 12. St. Clair and Huron county advances are distressing. All that portion of the State east of Saginaw Bay and north of a point 40 miles above Port Huron is swept by fire. A number of persons perished. Five villages are entirely destroyed, and two partially. Others are threatened. There were large stores in these towns filled with winter supplies. A steamer was sent to their relief from Port Huron, and returned with 40 persons, several of whom are badly hurt. All the telegraph offices along the shore are burned. R. B. Hubbard, at Huron City, shot all his fine horses and cattle to prevent their perishing by fire. A light rain yesterday seems to have abated the fires. Professor Chas. Scott of Hope College, perished, also a minister whose name is not ascertained.

The fire at Windsor, opposite here, burned the principal business portion of the town. An incendiary was arrested. The cutter Fessenden has reached Port Huron, with seventeen refugees from the lake shore. Two were fatally burned.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 12. The woods and prairies are burning along the New Albany and Chicago roads.

THE STAR.

RUTHERFORDTON, N. C.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.

Next Monday, His Honor Judge Logan, will hold court at Dallas, Gaston county.

Two droves of mules, and one drove of cattle passed through town this week.

F. H. C.—Hope is good—we hope you will sharpen your quill and come again.

As a dressing, NATURE'S HAIR RESTORATIVE goes ahead of any thing in the market. See advertisement. 2w

WALLACE & SCOGGIN have the cheapest and best goods in town. Call on them before you buy elsewhere.

Guard-head Scoggin, continues to bring in Ku Klux. The Democratic Hotel contains twenty, at the time of writing.

New subscribers continue to come in, some with, and some without the spondulix. We like the spondulix part best.

Last Monday the republican meeting at this place was postponed, to next Monday, we hope to see a large crowd.

Our bar-rooms, we guess are doing a good business, as we have seen several of their signs lying around loose lately.

We will probably have another bar-room opened in town soon. Wonder if there will not soon be a chance to get liquor at five cents a smell?

We tried our hand at Horse swapping, and concluded, we are not a good judge of Horse flesh. Antrim did not learn us as much as we thought he had.

The soldiers from camp had better quit calling at private houses of nights, one came near getting into trouble Thursday night. Ladies do not intend to be insulted.

The mast in our county is better this year, than it has been for a number of years. We have noticed a number of Pigeons, wonder if some enterprising young man could not furnish us enough to make a Pigeon pie.

Our Town contains four churches five stores, four doctors, nine law yers, four bar-rooms, one cabinet shop, one wagon manufactory, one drug store, two printing offices, one hotel, two boarding houses, one tan yard, two private schools and about twenty-seven loafers.

FOR HOUSE CLEANING, washing dish es, floors, oil cloths, tables, cleaning windows, paint, knives and polishing tin, brass and all metals, use Enoch Morgan's Sons' Sapolio. It is cheaper and better than soap. Get it from your grocer, or at 211 Washington street, N. Y. 2-4w.

We got back from Hendersonville Thursday. Judge Cloud was presiding—the State docket for Henderson county is large, about one hundred cases—several for larceny, the case of state vs. C. Adair and others, for the murder of the Weston family, moved from this county will probably be tried, commencing next Monday; near one hundred witnesses from our county are present. Hendersonville appeared to be doing a thriving business—the republicans held a meeting Tuesday, they resolved, that the Legislature ought to expell its members and officers who belong to the Ku Klux.

STATE NEWS.

The Raleigh Carolinian says that there is a heavy law-suit pending which involves the entire University property at Chapel Hill, real and personal.

FOR LIBERIA.—The train from the South yesterday afternoon brought 160 negroes, who are on their way to Liberia. They passed through and went on their way rejoicing armed and equipped with all the necessary contraptions for the voyage. Their shipping point we believe, is Norfolk, Va.—Charlotte Observer, 2d inst.

MURDER IN GATES COUNTY.—We learn, says the Norfolk Journal of the 25th, through a letter received from Gates county, N. C., of an atrocious murder committed in that county Saturday night, 21st Oct. The circumstances, as far as we have learned, are as follows: Mr. Thomas E. Matthews, a merchant doing business near Gatesville, after closing his store on Saturday started with his wife for his residence, which is a short distance from the store. Just before they reached the house four men suddenly appeared on the opposite side of the road, and each one fired at Mr. Matthews. All the shots took effect, and Mr. Matthews fell dead within a few feet of his horror-stricken wife, who, strange to say, escaped injury. A man named Wilson was arrested on Sunday on suspicion of being one of the murderers.

Kuklux Hegira.

From an United States official just returned from Madison county, we learn that the Kuklux of that section are panic stricken at the fate of their brethren recently convicted in the Circuit Court at Raleigh, and at their own prospective deserts should they persist in their unlawful course. Within the past few weeks, hundreds have abandoned their homes and turned their steps westward, generally going in crowds of from five to fifty. He thinks if the stampede continues a few days longer in the same ratio that it has for the time mentioned that Madison will soon be depopulated. He says that he was informed by Mr. Bayless Ray, who recently returned from Tennessee, that on the road he met a party of them, numbering fifty or sixty, who told him that their intended destination was Kansas. From sixteen to twenty, who were hiding out, have come in and made confessions before T. S. Deaver, U. S. Commissioner, among them a minister of the Gospel. The complicity of this professed follower of Christ with midnight assassins and scoundrels, seemed to astound him, but we reminded him of Judas, and he held his peace.—Pioneer.

The Old Fort Colonization Company we notice have gone to work in earnest.

Quite a number of houses have already gone up, nearly complete, and many more commencing. This Company seem to have all the energy necessary for success in the undertaking. Nothing of the Old Foggy about them, they mean what they say. They are going to make a town. Good luck to all concerned.—Asheville Paper.

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY, Lebanon, Tenn., May 27, 1871.

Messrs. G. & C. Merriam: In definitions, Webster is incomparably superior to all others. This great volume, (Webster's Unabridged) in its present form, is a library in itself; a work of reference which no scholar can afford to do without. Its extensive circulation is as necessary as the establishment of common schools.

Yours, sincerely,
B. W. McDONNOLD,
Pres. Cumberland University.

Octavius V. Catto.

The following article, taken the York Republican, shows the desperate course that is pursued by the ruffians that are connected with the democracy. Let it be remembered that this was an unprovoked, high-handed murder, and was committed simply because the lamented Catto was a Republican:

The murder of Octavius V. Catto, a respectable colored man of Philadelphia, on the day of the election, by democratic ruffians, is one of the most shocking crimes that has been perpetrated in our State for many years. Prof. Catto was a man of great talents and learning, and was very successful as an educator of youth. He was a man of genial disposition, quiet and unostentatious in manner, and universally respected. He was a soldier during the war, and conducted himself with great gallantry, and won honorable promotion by his merits. That he should have been brutally murdered at his own door, when he had been guilty of no crime, is a disgrace to our civilization, and to the spirit of the age in which we live. Prof. Catto was murdered by that spirit which has planted itself upon the idea of inequality of races, and which taught ten years ago that doctrine that "a negro had no rights which a white man was bound to respect." It is the same spirit that murdered draft officers during the war; that instigated the New York riots of 1864, and to-day is outraging negroes and white republicans all over the South. This is the party of "free speech," the "constitution as it was" and the advocacy of "constitutional liberty." Such a deed of blood, should be punished to the fullest extent of the offended law, and wretches base enough to do so horrid an act, should be made to feel that the law of our land is ample to protect all of its citizens. Let justice be done and that speedily.

A Propensity for Twins.

About one mile from Jamestown, Russell county, there lives one of the most remarkable families in all this commonwealth, and probably in the United States. Mr. James Jeffries who is now in this city serving upon the petit jury in the United States, tells his own story, and says that he was married before he was 17 years old, his wife being only five days younger than himself. They lived together seven years without children, when his wife gave birth to twins, a boy and a girl. In the fifteen years which followed, nineteen children were born to the happy couple, each of the first three births being twins and each subsequent birth alternating between twins and single births until the fifteen years were accomplished and nineteen children composed the family circle, seven pair of twins being born during the time. Mr. Jeffries is only 45 years old, and is still youthful in appearance and very stout. His wife never had better health in all her life than at present, though she will not weigh 100 pounds. Her greatest weight at any time was 110 pounds. The boy of the first twins now weighs 166 pounds, the girl 125 pounds. All the boys who are grown have made large men, the girls are of good size and all the children healthy. But five out of the nineteen have died. Mr. Jeffries has ten brothers, all of whom are large men, and within the families of these eleven brothers there are thirty-seven pairs of twins, making seventy-four twin children, to say nothing of the host of single births. Five of Mr. Jeffries children are married, and added to all those singular facts, notwithstanding the absence of silvery locks on his head, he is the grandfather of five children.—Louisville Courier.

A Startling Revelation!

Chicago Fired by the Societe Nationale—Confession by a Member!

The following extravagant narrative which we give in abbreviated form is taken from the Chicago Times, which paper devotes a column and half in fine type to its exciting details and add: "Though it appears at first to be utterly romantic and improbable, there are not wanting confirmatory circumstances. The original explanation of the origin of the fire has been conclusively disproven. It can be attested by every one who listened to Train, at Farwell Hall, on the night of the fire, that he used the language recited below, &c. Little doubt remains that the city was fired in several different places."

The informant, professing to be moved by remorse, does not divulge his name. He states that the Societe has its headquarters in Paris, and branches in London, Edinburgh, Manchester, Liverpool, Dublin, Berlin, St. Petersburg, Naples, Florence, Vienna, and other cities in Europe, and in New York, Boston, Washington, New Orleans, Baltimore, and Chicago. The Societe was organized during the political excitement which preceded the election of Louis Napoleon to the Presidency. Its object was the promotion of a commune, with equality of rights and riches, poor and wealthy, ignorant and learned. The coup d'etat, which placed Napoleon on the throne temporarily, defeated its purposes; yet its organization was intact, and the alleged evils of the Emperor's reign caused the attraction to its ranks of all discontented elements. He proceeds to say that the miserable results of the late war invited them to a trial of their terrible principles, and the gorgeous city of Paris became the scene of their bloody orgies, and, as by the torch of Hecate, the flames of destruction wasted the relics of grandeur and the trophies of national power.

The most horrible record of devastation and woe the century will take down to futurity he charges to this Commune. Its final defeat did not extinguish it, and now yet strong in trembling France, its members, whom the whips of the Furies must urge on, are scattered throughout our own prosperous cities. He states also that in Great Britain have been instigated by them, and men powerful to influence crowds by fiery eloquence added to their body every where, and that they have failed in many attempts to foment strife between employers and laborers, and as a ultima ratio they determined to burn Chicago as the city where rapidly growing wealth was widening the social distinctions in extreme.

The confession includes the name of

as a member, and reminds that he stated in a lecture in Farwell Hall Sunday evening before the fire:

"This is the last public address that will be delivered within these walls. A terrible calamity is impending over the city of Chicago. More I can not, dare not say." He adds that another word would have ended his life, as there were scores of pistols pointed at him.

PETROLEUM MINES

had been laid by plots in secret conclave beyond the reach of mortal observation. Mines in various streets were simultaneously fired, and in order to contravene any possible effort to stay the conflagration by explosion of buildings by gunpowder, a train communicating with the magazine could at a moment destroy it.

The first barrels removed by the powder brigade were those with which the train communicated, and hundreds were saved who would have been killed by explosion. Many of these mines started new fires, and the water works were also undermined. He asserts that the men executed the design, and that buildings destined by the Societe to be spared fell. Concluding, he says that two of the original founders of this fearful fraternity in Chicago found their death in the flames, and he, the narrator, is exposed to hideous death for treachery; that other cities are threatened in like manner, and that every circle of society has the sworn members of the Societe Nationale in its midst. The Thugs of India had no parallel power in the numbers he estimates as belonging to the Commune.—Wash. Chronicle.

FIRE-PROOF BUILDINGS.—The Chicago fire seems to have established the fact that fire proof buildings are an impossibility. The Rock Island depot, the great Union depot, the Pacific Hotel, and many other of the great buildings of Chicago were of the fireproof kind. The custom-house was all stone and iron, except the doors and window sashes. These and others burned up like tinder-boxes under the fervent heat of the awful conflagration.—The Tribune building was claimed to be the nearest to absolute fire-proof of any structure in the world. It sublimely stood out against the heat and flames for seven hours, and then succumbed. If these buildings of iron and stone burn down, what structures can be fire-proof?

NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.—The following elections will occur on the 7th of November: Virginia, election of the Legislature and county officers; Maryland, election of Governor, State officers and Legislature; Minnesota, election of Governor, State officers, and Legislature; Mississippi, election of Legislature; New Jersey, election of Governor and Legislature; Illinois, election of Congressmen at large; New York, election of State officers and Legislature; Wisconsin, election of Governor, State officers, and Legislature; Nebraska, election State officers, if the new constitution shall have been adopted at the election of September 19th.

GOD IN HISTORY.

ONE OF THE REMARKABLE BOOKS of the age. Abundant in living pictures and startling theories. Treats on living issues and recent events. Reviews Infidelity and the War in France. Restores History from the terrible abuse into which it has fallen. Shows that GOD, NOT MAN, controls the world; that Redemption is the Golden Thread of History; that Providence is its light; that God is in History, and all History has a unity, because God is in it. These great truths have been overlooked by nearly all historians. God does control in the affairs of nations, and for His glory.

Col. Douglas, Son of Stephen A. Douglas, on the Situation

Col. Robert Douglas, President Grant's private secretary, and son of Stephen A. Douglas, is in the city, a guest of Gen. Hillyer. On Monday night, feeling a great interest in the present struggle in New York, and also a curiosity to see the working of our political machine, he visited the primary election in the Twenty-first District. As soon as it was known that he was present, a meeting was improvised, and Col. Wm. Haw, Jr., the President of the district association, introduced Col. Douglas to the meeting. He was received with immense enthusiasm, and with three cheers for Col. Douglas, three cheers for his distinguished father, and three cheers for President Grant. The reception was entirely unexpected by Col. Douglas, but after repeated calls for a speech, he responded.

COL. DOUGLAS' SPEECH.

After thanking them he said: I may candidly say I think your confidence in the Administration is well deserved. The Administration of Gen. Grant in all its branches has been firm, honest, prudent and economical, protecting the interests of the Government and maintaining the rights of the citizen. All its acts have been conducive to the welfare of the country, while some of them will rank among the highest in our history. The rapid payment of the national debt, coincident with the great reduction in taxation, is unexcelled as a financial achievement, and the treaty with England, while giving us honorable redress for our injuries, and thus averting the probabilities of war, commands the admiration of the world as one of the great milestones in the path of civilization. Last but not least, the unflinching support given to the loyal men of the South, who are there fighting the battles of the Union, has gained for the great soldier a strong hold upon the affections of the people. He not only deserved our confidence as a man, but is entitled to our support as the representative of the principles of our party. The honesty and economy shown by the National Government bear a striking contrast to the corrupt administration of the finances of New York, but the zeal and harmony which you exhibit in endeavoring to rescue your city from the clutches of the unprincipled demagogues who now control it give flattering prospects of success. In your able efforts I can assure you of the warm sympathy of the President. President Grant has no private revenge to gratify, no personal enemies to punish; but regards every true Republican as his friend. In all his appointments, even if some of you may think he has been mistaken, he has sought to promote the welfare of the Republic, and above all let them be men whose characters are above suspicion. Remember that no one can be a true Republican unless he is an honest man.

The speech was received with round after round of applause, and the young statesman received the congratulations and handshaking of the entire audience.—New York Standard.

Relative Rank of Cities.

The cities of New York, Philadelphia, and Brooklyn maintain the same relative rank as to population that they did in 1860. There has been considerable shifting of places, however, among those that now constitute the remainder of the twenty foremost cities of the Union.

During the last decade St. Louis has ascended the scale from the eighth to the fourth.

Chicago, in a similar proportion, changes from the ninth to the fifth.

Baltimore, which in 1860 was the fourth, retrogrades to the sixth.

Boston pursues the same direction from the fifth to the seventh.

Cincinnati retires a step from the seventh to the eighth.

New Orleans falls back from the sixth to the ninth.

San Francisco, taking a noble forward leap, vaults from the fifteenth to the tenth.

Buffalo lags behind from the tenth to the eleventh.

Washington makes a stride from the fourteenth to the twelfth.

Newark, New Jersey's thriving metropolis, drops, nevertheless, from the eleventh to the thirteenth.

Louisville, twelfth in rank in 1860, is now assigned to the fourteenth.

Cleveland, four steps forward, mounts from the nineteenth to the fifteenth.

Pittsburgh retains the same relative rank now as then, the sixteenth.

Jersey City rises from the twentieth to the importance of the seventeenth.

Detroit recedes from the seventeenth to the eighteenth.

Milwaukee from the eighteenth to the nineteenth.

Albany, which was ten years ago the thirteenth, now takes the place of Jersey City, the twentieth.

Brandy as Medicine.

Brandy kills multitudes every year who enjoyed perfect health before they began to use it; hence it seems fair to infer that it will kill the sick more speedily.

Dr. Lee said he was living near Buckingham Palace, in London, where Prince Albert was taken sick. His case was doing well for a few days, when they began giving him brandy to strengthen him, to enable him to recover more rapidly; and the more he was stimulated the worse he grew until he died. It is true that they believed that it was the best thing for him, but their thinking so did not make it so.

Some years ago, when it was the custom to attempt curing delirium tremens by giving brandy, one out of every four died at Edinburgh Hospital. Since then, the professor of the medical department has treated 300 cases of delirium tremens without alcohol, without losing a single patient.

Professor Gardner of the Glasgow University, gave a hundred men thirty ounces of alcohol; seventeen died out of the hundred. Another hundred were allowed only three ounces, and eleven died out of the hundred. Of 200 cases of young persons, who were not allowed either wine or whiskey, not one died.

In a teetotal hospital at Leeds, of 300 patients who took not a drop, all recovered. Let facts decide.

Georgia has recently been the scene of a supposed conflict between the laws of a State and those of the United States. A white man and colored woman, who had been married under a license issued by the Ordinary, were indicted in a State Court and sentenced to imprisonment, on the ground that marriages between the white and black races are forbidden by a State statute, and are therefore illegal and void.

They sued out a writ of habeas corpus, and had their case taken before Judge Erskine, of the United States District Court, claiming that the law under which they had been convicted was in contravention of the first section of the Fourteenth Amendment, which provides that no State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of any citizens of the United States. Judge Erskine decided that the validity of the statute in question had not been affected by the adoption of the amendment, and that the pretended marriage of the parties was illegal, and their conviction just and proper under the laws.—Roanoke News.

Brigham Young appeared in Court in Salt Lake on Monday and was held to bail in five thousand dollars on a charge of having more than one lawful wife. It is thought that there will be trouble if he is convicted. The Mormons, however, have so uniformly threatened trouble as a last resort, with no intent of carrying out the threat, that we may safely conclude they know too much to resort to the hopeless arbitrament of war or riot.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb on Fluid Extract Cathartica Grape Juice. For Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Bilious affections, sick or nervous headache, costiveness etc. Purely Vegetable, containing no Mercury, Minerals or Deleterious Drugs.

These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salmagunda, etc. There is nothing more agreeable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Cathartica Grape Pills are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated Pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. THE CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar coated. Price Fifty Cents Per Box.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT SASSAPARILLA. Will radically cure all the system Scrophulous, Syphilitic, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Sore Eyes, Legs, Core Mouth, Sore Head, Bronchitis, Skin Diseases, Salt Rheum, Cankers, Runnings from the Ear, White Swellings, Tumors, Cancerous Affections, Nodes, Rickets, Glandular Swellings, Night Sweats, Rash, Tetters, Humors of all Kinds, Chronic Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and all diseases that have been established in the system for years.

Being prepared expressly for the above complaints, its blood-purifying properties are greater than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. It gives the complexion a clear and healthy color and restores the patient to a state of health and purity. For purifying the blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of pains and swelling of the bones, ulcerations of the throat and legs, blotches, pimples on the face, erysipelas and all scaly eruptions of the skin, and beautifying the complexion. Price $1.50 per Bottle.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

The Great Diuretic, has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given, irritation of the neck of the bladder and inflammation of the kidneys, ulceration of the kidneys and bladder, retention of Urine, Diseases of the prostate gland, stone in the bladder, calculus, gravel, brickdust deposit, and mucous or milky discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to exertion, loss of power, loss of memory, difficulty of breathing, weak nerves, trembling, horror of disease, wakefulness, dimness of vision, pain in the back, hot bands, flushing of the body, dryness of the skin, eruption on the face, pallid countenance, universal lassitude of the muscular system, etc.

Used by persons from the ages of eighteen to twenty-five, and from thirty-five to fifty-five, or in the decline or change of life; after confinement or labor pains; bed-wetting in children.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, and excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the blood, etc., superseding copious in affections for which it is used, and syphilitic affections—in these diseases used in connection with Helmbold's Extract Buchu.

LADIES.—In many affections peculiar to ladies, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy—as in chlorosis, or retention, irregularity, painfulness or suppression of customary evacuations, or cured or scirrhous state of the uterus, leucorrhoea or whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indigestion or habits of dissipation. It is prescribed extensively by the most eminent physicians and midwives for curing all the above mentioned affections, of both sexes and all ages, attended with any of the above diseases or symptoms.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

Cures diseases arising from imprudences, habits of dissipation, etc., in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire, and gives strength to Urine, thereby removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, Allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous matter.

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the poison has, by the use of "powerful" astringent, been forced into the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after marriage.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. Price, One Dollar and Fifty Cents Per Bottle.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S Improved Rose Wash

Will cannot be surpassed as a Face Wash, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of cutaneous affection. It especially cures pimples, spots, scrofulous dryness, indurations of the cutaneous membrane, etc., dispels redness and itchy inflammation, hives, rash, moist patches, dryness of scalp or skin, frost bites, and all purposes for which soaps or ointments are used; restores the skin to a state of purity and softness, and insures continued healthy action of the vessels, on which depends the agreeable clearness and vivacity of complexion so much sought and admired. But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a toilet appendage of the most superlative and congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, safety and efficiency—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a preservative and refresher of the complexion. It is an excellent lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu, Sarsaparilla, and Cathartica Grape Pills, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed. Price, one dollar per bottle.

Full and explicit directions accompany the medicine. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character furnished on application, with hundreds of thousands of living witnesses, and upward of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendations letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, etc. The proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparation, and do not need to be promulgated by certificates. Henry T. Helmbold's Genuine Preparations, delivered to any address, secure from imitations.
